ESTABLISHMENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

THE UNIVERSITY OF GHANA was founded in 1948 as the University College of the Gold Coast on the recommendation of the Asquith Commission on Higher Education in the then British colonies. The Asquith Commission, which was set up in 1943 to investigate Higher Education, recommended among other things, the setting up of University Colleges in association with the University of London. This was followed up by a number of separate Commissions in different regions. The West Africa Commission was under the Chairmanship of the Rt. Hon. Walter Elliot. The Elliot Commission published a majority report which recommended the establishment of two University Colleges in the Gold Coast (Ghana) and Nigeria, and a minority report which held that only one University College for the whole of British West Africa was feasible. The British Government at first accepted the minority report of the Elliot Commission and decided that a University College for the whole of British West Africa should be established at Ibadan in Nigeria. But the people of the Gold Coast could not accept this recommendation. Led by the scholar and politician, the late Dr. J.B. Danquah, they urged the Gold Coast Government to inform the British Government that the Gold Coast could support a University College. The British Government accordingly reviewed its decision and agreed to the establishment of the University College of the Gold Coast.

The University College of the Gold Coast was founded by Ordinance on August 11, 1948 for the purpose of providing for and promoting university education, learning and research. Its first Principal was the late Mr. David Mowbray Balme. Mr. Balme was farsighted, courageous and dedicated to the promotion of scholarship. By his vision, industry and single-mindedness of purpose, he built a college and laid the foundations for a sound University which is now a source of pride. In his ten years of principalship, he created an institution whose key-note was orderly living with dignity in a community of scholars. One of the recommendations of the Asquith Commission was that the British Government should set up an Inter-Universities Council to advise on all matters relating to Higher Education in the new British Colonies. The Inter-Universities Council served the new University College of the Gold Coast in an advisory capacity, but it approved all academic appointments. This arrangement helped the College to maintain the high academic standards associated with the Universities in Britain. Also, it enabled the College to seek the support of the Council in obtaining funds from the United Kingdom Government sources.

From its inception, the University College of the Gold Coast was admitted to the Scheme of Special Relationship extended by the University of London to certain English and overseas University Colleges. Under this scheme, the University College was allowed to teach for the external degree examinations of London University. It also allowed the College to modify the London syllabuses to suit local conditions and to take part in the setting and marking of examinations. But London University gave final approval for courses and examinations since the degrees given were those of the University of London. For thirteen years, therefore, the University College looked up to two separate institutions in Great Britain: to the Inter-Universities Council for guidance on its broad policy, and to the University of London for approval and control of details of degree regulations. The University College benefitted greatly from this arrangement which certainly helped to maintain its high academic standards.

In the 1960-61 academic year, the College Council made a request to the Government of Ghana for legislation to constitute the University College into a University with the power to award its own degrees. The Government appointed an International Commission to examine the problem. On the recommendations of that Commission, the University of Ghana was set up by an Act of Parliament on October 1, 1961 (Act 79). The then President of the Republic of Ghana, Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, became the first Chancellor of the University, with Nana Kobina Nketsia IV, Omanhene of Essikado, as the (Interim) Vice Chancellor.

VISITATION OF THE UNIVERSITY: The University Council, in 2007, appointed a Visitation Panel to review the University's academic programmes, infrastructure, resources, administrative and governance structures. The Panel submitted a comprehensive report with recommendations on ways in which the structures of the University can be improved, with a view to enhancing efficiency. It is expected that the far-reaching changes in the undergraduate programmes, course credit and grading systems, which were introduced in the 2010/2011 academic year, and which are the outcome of the recommendations of the Visitation Panel, will go a long way towards improving the quality of graduates produced by the University. Recommendations on infrastructural resources, administrative and governance structures are at various stages of implementation.

ENROLMENT STATISTICS: With a current student population of 35,683 (with a male/female ratio of about 3:2) the University of Ghana is the oldest and largest of the six public Universities in Ghana. The total number of students includes 4,437 at the Accra City Campus and 4,532 undertaking their studies by the Distance Mode. Also included in this number are 3,196 post-graduate students and 3,596 students on modular or sandwich programmes.

ASSOCIATIONS AND LINKS: The University of Ghana is a member of the Association of Ghanaian Universities (AGU), International Association of Universities (IAU), the Association of Commonwealth Universities (ACU) and the Association of African Universities (AAU). The University is also a member the League of World Universities (which comprises 47 renowned research universities all over the world). The University has also established academic and research links with several Universities and Research Institutions worldwide. In addition, the University has been linked to the Norwegian Universities' Committee for Development Research and Education (NUFU), the Council for International Educational Exchange (CIEE) based in New York, International Student Exchange Programmes (ISEP) and the Commonwealth Universities Student Exchange Consortium (CUSAC), among others.

PRECINCTS

The campus of the University lies about 13 kilometres north-east of Accra, the capital of Ghana, at an altitude of between 90 and 100 metres. From the Main University Gate on the Dodowa Road, the University Avenue extends to Commonwealth Hall on Legon Hill.

Along it are grouped other Halls of Residence, Departments, lecture theatres and laboratories. Mid-way, an open space - the University Square - with an ornamental pool is over-looked by the Balme Library (named after David Mowbray Balme, the first Principal of the University College). Across from the University Square are sports fields, a Central Cafeteria and halls of residence. Behind Commonwealth Hall is an open-air theatre with a Grecian style auditorium built into the slope of Legon Hill. On the summit of Legon Hill is the Convocation Group of Buildings which houses the University's administration offices, the Great Hall, with a seating capacity of 1,500 and a Tower donated by the Government of Ghana in 1959 to commemorate Ghana's Independence. On the southern side of the campus are residential accommodation for staff, the University Basic Schools, the Noguchi Memorial Institute for Medical Research, School of Public Health, the Sports Stadium, a night market, supermarket and student hostels; while on the Northern side are more teaching departments, lecture theatres and laboratories. Across the Accra-Dodowa road from the Main University Gate is a Police Station, a University Hospital and housing for Junior Staff of the University.

The College of Health Sciences has its administration as well as the Medical/Dental /Allied Health Sciences and Pharmacy Schools located at the Korle-Bu Teaching Hospital, which is about three kilometres west of the centre of Accra, and about 18 kilometres from the main University campus.

The Accra City Campus of the University, located close to the business district of the nation's capital, was established to provide part-time education for mature persons and for persons who prefer not to study full time.

RESEARCH INSTITUTES AND SCHOOLS

BUSINESS SCHOOL: The Business School was originally established by statutory instrument in January 1960 as the College of Administration at Achimota. It had begun as the Department of Commerce in the then Kumasi College of Technology (now Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology); this Department was transferred to the Western Compound of Achimota to form the nucleus of the College of Administration. The main idea behind the transfer was that the new College would serve as a comprehensive institution which would provide various training programmes required to meet the needs of administrative and accounting personnel in the rapidly expanding economy of Ghana. The move was also intended to give the College scope for expansion within the relatively more mature business environment of Accra and to afford both Faculty and students opportunities for close contact with the business community. The College was responsible for organizing courses in Accounting, Secretaryship, Central and Local Government Administration and Hospital Administration. These courses led to the examination of United Kingdom statutory bodies: The Association of Certified and Corporate Accountants (ACCA), The Chartered Institute of Secretaries (CIS), The Corporation of Certified Secretaries (CCS), The Clerical Examinations for Local Government Officers (NALGO) and Institute of Hospital Administration. Though useful, the courses were not fully satisfactory because they were foreign oriented, as they dealt mainly with United Kingdom institutions and were not properly adapted to experience and practice in Ghana. It was therefore decided in 1961 to reshape them and make them more relevant to national needs.

In order to give the study of Administration its proper place in the country's higher education system, and to attract the best candidates, it was decided that courses run by the College should be at University level. It was thus agreed that the College of Administration should be associated with the University of Ghana and its main courses developed to the University's degree standard. Hence in October 1962, the College of Administration was integrated into the University of Ghana. The College was given a status comparable to that of a faculty in the University and was redesignated the School of Administration. Its students were gradually moved from Achimota to the University's students' Halls of Residence at Legon, and on February 18, 1967, the new building of the School, centrally situated at Legon, was opened. In 2004, the name was once again changed to the Business School. The School is governed by the Statutes of the University and controlled by the University Council and the Academic Board. It does, however, continue to receive earmarked grants direct from Government, and within the framework of general University-wide policy, maintains a good degree of freedom to develop its own associations and schemes. It has a mandate to organize courses and seminars from time to time either on its own or in association with other bodies, to satisfy identified areas of need in the fields of Business and Public Administration.

MEDICAL SCHOOL: established in 1964 by command of government under the Ministry of Health as an autonomous institution in special relationship with the University of Ghana. The primary objectives of the Ghana Medical School (as it was then known) was to train:

- i. a broad-based generalist practitioner with sufficient grounding for subsequent specialization.
- ii. a practitioner functionally attuned to and therefore responding aptly to the needs and exigencies of his/her environment. He/she shall attain an internationally accepted standard.
- iii. a practitioner who has participated in health care delivery while under instruction and is therefore cognisant of the problems of delivery of health care in the rural/urban settings.
- iv. an individual who accepts responsibility for self-learning and is therefore readily responsive to the call for continuing medical education; and
- v. an advocate for community health needs.

Arrangements to integrate the Medical School formally into the University of Ghana were concluded in 1969 in time to permit the award of the degrees of Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery (MB ChB) of the University of Ghana (Legon) to the first class of 39 medical graduates to be trained in Ghana. The Ghana Medical School thus became the University of Ghana Medical School in October 1969. However, it still retains its financial autonomy and has its own Executive Council and School Board. These arrangements have been given legal backing under the provisions of Schedule D of the Statutes of the University. The curriculum of the School has been revised on three occasions (1972, 1980 and 1991) to further enhance the training of doctors. Currently, the curriculum allows for courses leading to the award of a BSc degree in Medical Science in addition to the MB ChB professional degree. The Medical School is presently the largest single faculty of the university.

DENTAL SCHOOL: The University of Ghana Dental School was established in 1995, even though basic dental training of dentists locally had been in place as far back as 1972. Before then the clinical training had been pursued outside the country, in the Universities of Manchester, London and Lagos. Candidates who completed their dental training in these universities were awarded University of Ghana degrees. At its establishment, the Academic Board decided that the new Dental School should operate under the umbrella of the University of Ghana Medical School until such time that it could stand on its own feet. The arrangement also provided for a coordinator of Dental Programmes, later on updated to Vice Dean of Dental Studies of the Dental School, who will function under the Dean of the Medical School.

SCHOOL OF ALLIED HEALTH SCIENCES: The Ministry of Health, in 1998, initiated the establishment of a School of Allied Health Sciences to produce medical and dental technical graduates through the Medical School. Programmes for this school included physiotherapy, medical laboratory science, radiography and therapy radiography. The Academic Board and the University Council approved this proposal in 1999. In the year 2001, this School came into being as one of the constituent schools of the newly established (in 2000) College of Health Sciences. An earlier Diploma in Medical Laboratory Technology also sponsored by the Ministry of Health in 1994 was phased out with the birth of the School of Allied Health Sciences.

SCHOOL OF NURSING: The School was formerly a Department in the Faculties of Science and Social Studies. In 2003 the University Council approved its conversion into a School. It is currently one of the constituents of the College of Health Sciences. The School has a strong link with the University of Alberta in the running of its MPhil programme.

It offers undergraduate and graduate programmes in Community Health Nursing, Maternal and Child Nursing, Mental Health Nursing, Adult Health Nursing and Research, Education and Administration.

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH: The School of Public Health was established in October, 1994, through collaboration between the Ministry of Health in Ghana and the University of Ghana, primarily to train public health workers to enable them perform effectively at District, Regional and National levels within governmental, quasi-governmental, non-governmental and private organizations. The programmes are also available to non-health personnel whose activities have an impact on the environment and public health. Properly trained Public Health personnel will be able to offer technical leadership in critical units such as Maternal and Child Health/Family Planning, Environmental Diseases Control, Health Information, Training, Research and Planning and in the running of specific disease control programmes such as AIDS, Tuberculosis, Leprosy and Onchocerciasis Control Programmes. The philosophy of the School is to operate as a "School without Walls" with semi-autonomous status, but with a close working relationship with the existing Schools and Faculties of the University. It is one of three Public Health Institutions in Africa that subscribe to the philosophy of school without walls, meaning that attempts are made to achieve an optimum mix of classroom and field work. The School admitted its first batch of students for the MPH programme in October 1994. In addition to its range of academic programmes, the School offers short certificate courses on specific health issues. Effective January 1, 2000, the School of Public Health became one of the health-related institutions grouped under the College of Health Sciences.

INSTITUTE OF AFRICAN STUDIES: Established in 1961, it conducts fundamental research in areas of African Languages, history and culture, and runs interdisciplinary courses leading to MPhil and PhD degrees in African Studies. Orientation courses are available for special admission students from other institutions and agencies. Interdisciplinary seminars and symposia are organized regularly. There is a Visual Arts Section with cultural exhibits for teaching and research. The Institute's library supplements the Africana collection of the Balme Library. Attached to the Institute is the Ghana Dance Ensemble – a resident professional dance company which was started in 1962 by the then Ghana Institute of Arts and Culture to link the University of Ghana with the national theatre movement.

INSTITUTE OF CONTINUING AND DISTANCE EDUCATION: Established originally as the Department of Extra-Mural Studies in 1948, and later named the Institute of Adult Education, the Institute provides university-based adult education through its branches and workers' colleges throughout the country. It provides both formal and non-formal programmes. The formal programmes consist of Diploma, Bachelor, Masters and Doctoral degree courses in Adult Education and remedial courses for the West Africa Senior Secondary School Certificate Examinations (WASSCE), as well as a preparatory course for the University's mature students' selection examination. The non-formal programmes comprise community education programmes in health, family life education, nutrition, civic education, community initiative and adult literacy. The Institute is directly involved with the organisation of a People's Education Association to support its work. Public lectures, seminars and workshops form a vital part of the Institute's activities. The most popular and national of these is the Annual New Year School which has been held regularly since 1948. The Institute also coordinates the University's distance learning programme.

INSTITUTE OF STATISTICAL, SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC RESEARCH: The Institute was established in 1966 as the Institute of Statistics. In addition to its original concern with problems related to statistics, the Institute has expanded into the field of social and economic studies. The Institute offers Certificate and Diploma courses in Statistics as well as a Master of Arts degree in Development Studies.

NOGUCHI MEMORIAL INSTITUTE FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH: The Institute was established in 1979 in a building funded by the Government of Japan to serve as a monument in memory of Dr. Hideyo Noguchi, a Japanese medical scientist who died in Accra in May, 1928 while investigating yellow fever. The Institute provides a base for medical co-operation programmes between Ghanaian and Japanese scientists and a centre for conducting medical research relevant to Ghana's needs. Research is conducted into problems of communicable diseases while graduate students are trained in medical research. Facilities at the Institute include specialized laboratories and services in support of public programmes. From January 1, 2000, the Institute became one of the health-related institutions grouped under the newly established College of Health Sciences.

REGIONAL INSTITUTE FOR POPULATION STUDIES: Established jointly in 1972 by the United Nations Organisation and the Government of Ghana, it promotes and strengthens research and training in demography for students from English-speaking countries in Africa. The Institute offers MA, MPhil and PhD degree courses. It organizes seminars, work-shops, ad hoc courses of study and in-service training in Demography and related fields at the request of governments and institutions, mainly in English-speaking African countries. Given its regional and international character, a significant number of the Institute's students come from other African countries.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATION STUDIES: Established in 1973 as the Institute of Journalism and Mass Communication, the School offers programmes leading to the MA and MPhil degrees in Communication Studies. It provides future journalists and media practitioners with the theoretical understanding and the professional skills and techniques required in the mass media.

SCHOOL OF PERFORMING ARTS: Established in 1962 as the School of Music and Drama under the Institute of African Studies, it comprises the Department of Dance Studies, the Department of Music and the Department of Theatre Arts. These three departments provide core courses for diploma, bachelor's and post-graduate degrees in Music, Theatre Arts and Dance. The School also runs Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) and Master of Fine Arts (MFA) degree programmes. Occasionally, the school organizes one-year certificate courses in Theatre Arts for foreign students on special admission. Training programmes for teachers and schools, amateur drama groups, choirmasters and singing groups are also available. The School has a Resident Theatre Company called 'Abibigromma'.

SCHOOL OF GRADUATE STUDIES: The unit responsible for coordinating graduate studies is the School of Graduate Studies. The School is headed by a Dean, and deals with all matters which have to do with registration and records, official correspondence and welfare of graduate students. There is a separate Handbook for Graduate Studies. The School seeks to provide a more effective and efficient governance structure for graduate studies.

OFFICE OF RESEARCH, INNOVATION AND DEVELOPMENT (ORID): This office promotes, coordinates and facilitates the University's research enterprise. The Office is headed by a Pro-Vice-Chancellor and seeks to raise the leadership profile of the University's research enterprise. The office also seeks to create an enabling environment for building the portfolio of contract research, to raise the level of research income and to commercialize the huge intellectual resources available to the University.

ACCRA CITY CAMPUS (Formerly the External Degree Centre): In 2002, the Academic Board of the University approved an arrangement to transform the External Degree Centre into the Accra City Campus of the University of Ghana, to offer part-time degree programmes in Bachelor of Arts (BA) and Bachelor of Science in Administration (BSc Admin). Admission is on fee-paying basis. Time-tabling is made flexible so as to accommodate the needs of workers. Entry requirements remain the same as for admission to the main University.

CENTRES OF RESEARCH/LEARNING

LANGUAGE CENTRE: The Language Centre was founded in 1970 as a Centre for research in Language use in Ghana, with the status of a department in the Faculty of Arts. For the first ten years of its existence, it was supported by a grant from the Carnegie Corporation, which funded the building it occupies. It later received Ford Foundation support, especially for staff development. The British Council supplied its Language Laboratory in 1980 and has provided small sums at various times. The focus of the Centre is on research and teaching related to the improvement of performance in the languages used in Ghana as vectors of education, culture and community interaction - English, the official language, and various Ghanaian languages.

CENTRE FOR TROPICAL CLINICAL PHARMACOLOGY AND THERAPEUTICS: The Centre for Tropical Clinical Pharmacology and Therapeutics was established in the University of Ghana Medical School in 1982 with a grant from the UNDP/World Bank/WHO Special Programme for Research and Training in Tropical Diseases (TDR). The grant was to increase research and training capabilities in Clinical Pharmacology, especially pharmacokinetics of antimalarial, antischistosomal and antifilarial drugs. The grant period was from 1982-1986. The Centre has the status of a department in the Medical School. The principal activities of the Centre are directed towards achieving the institutional objectives of the University of Ghana Medical School.

LEGON CENTRE FOR INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS AND DIPLOMACY (LECIAD): The Legon Centre for International Affairs and Diplomacy (LECIAD) was established by the University of Ghana in December, 1989. Its central purposes are:

- i. the provision of inter-disciplinary postgraduate academic training for qualified applicants and Foreign Service personnel;
- ii. the organisation of seminars, workshops and short courses on specified subjects of current international interest;
- iii. research and publication in the areas of International Affairs, International Law and Practice.

The Centre runs a 12-month course in International Affairs leading to the award of an MA degree in accordance with the existing University of Ghana Regulations.

THE INTERNATIONAL CENTRE FOR AFRICAN MUSIC AND DANCE: The International Centre for African Music and Dance was established at the University of Ghana in the 1992-93 academic year to serve as a focus for the development of materials and programmes in African Music and Dance that meet the needs of scholars, research students and creative artists. It is intended:

- i. to provide a forum for international meetings, conferences, seminars, workshops and special events in African music and dance;
- ii. to serve as an Archival Documentation and study centre for African Music and Dance;
- iii. to promote and coordinate research, creative and development projects in music and dance;
- iv. to prepare and publish monographs, source materials, bibliographies and an International Journal of African Music and Dance, and to serve as a clearing house for information on events, artists, scholars and institutions concerned with the study and promotion of African music and dance.

The Centre operates as a unit within the School of Performing Arts which offers diploma and degree courses of the University of Ghana in music, dance and drama. In addition to participation in the Centre's programmes, visiting scholars and students affiliated to the Centre will be able to avail themselves of the classes and private lessons in African music and dance given by the traditional musicians and dance instructors of the School as well as the facilities of the reference library of the Institute of African Studies which is adjacent to the School of Performing Arts and which has a valuable collection of Africana.

VOLTA BASIN RESEARCH PROJECT: The Volta basin refers to the approximately 400,000 sq. km drained by River Volta and its tributaries in the West African countries, Cote d'Ivoire, Burkina Faso, Togo, Benin, and Ghana where the basin makes up about 70 percent of the mainland. The Volta Basin Research Project (VBRP) was established by the University of Ghana in 1963 to carry out, through a multi-disciplinary methodology, research into the positive and negative changes within the Volta basin, following the damming of the river Volta at Akosombo and, subsequently, downstream at Akuse, and the consequent creation of artificial lakes behind the dams. As with many major river basin development projects, it was deemed imperative to conduct pre-impoundment studies on what would be lost irretrievably after the damming, scientifically monitor and appraise continuously the expected multi-faceted social and economic impacts, and formulate measures against the many adverse effects that such a major environmental disruption was bound to cause nationally and internationally.

The five major areas identified for research were fisheries agriculture, hydrobiology, public health, socio-economic development, and archaeology. Traditionally research work is vested in full-time Research Fellows who also partly teach in the Departments to which they, together with their Technicians, are attached. Through this arrangement, the VBRP has generated substantial scientific information about the Volta basin, and contributed significantly towards its socio-economic development by discovering solutions for problems associated with the damming.

LEGON SEISMOLOGICAL OBSERVATORY: The Ghana Geological Survey Department has installed seismological equipment in the University's Department of Geology as part of a Telemetric Seismograph Network. The main station at Legon is served by a number of smaller stations located in the south-eastern part of Ghana (Tema, Shai Hills, Akosombo, Koforidua, Kukurantumi, Weija and Winneba) which transmit signals by radio waves. The network monitors seismic activities in the country.

LEGON BOTANICAL GARDENS: The Legon Botanical Gardens, covering an area of approximately 25 hectares, supports the scientific research of the Department of Botany. It contains plant species of the tropics and semi-tropics, including a large collection of palms from various tropical areas. In addition to the sale of plants and wreaths, landscaping and horticultural services, there are facilities in the gardens for picnics by individuals, families and social groups.

AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH CENTRES: There are three Agricultural Research Centres; at Legon (about 12 kilometres outside the main campus), at Kpong on the Accra plains (about 90 kilometres north-east of Legon), and at Kade in the Forest Zone, in the Eastern Region (approximately 175 kilometres from Legon), under the supervision of the Institute of Agricultural Research of the College of Agriculture and Consumer Sciences. Apart from research, the Centres provide technical and practical experience for students of agriculture, and extension and training facilities for farmers and other interested persons.

- Livestock and Poultry Research Centre- Legon: The Centre at Legon (established in 1953) covers an area of about 740 hectares. Its main research activities are in animal breeding, animal nutrition, veterinary medicine, pasture improvement and the development of dairy cattle by crossbreeding.
- Soil and Irrigation Research Centre- Kpong The Kpong Centre (established in 1954) covers an area of about 420 hectares. It conducts research mainly into rice, sugar cane, cowpea, soya bean, sorghum and beef cattle. The Station also conducts research on mechanized irrigation agriculture on black soils (vertisols) of the Accra Plains.
- Forest and Horticultural Crops Research Centre- Kade: The Centre at Kade (established in 1957) covers an area of 99.3 hectares. It is mainly concerned with research into production of forest zone crops such as citrus, plantain, cocoyam, oil palm and rubber, with a special interest in the agronomy of perennial crop plants.

LIBRARY FACILITIES: The University library system consists of the main library, the Balme Library and libraries of Schools, Colleges and Institutes as well as Departmental and Hall libraries. Together they form the library facilities that support teaching, learning and research in the University. Non-members of the University are allowed use of these volumes but do not have borrowing rights. The University library system has been automated using the Innopac Millennium Library Management System. Resources of the Library System may be accessed online at <http://library.ug.edu.gh>. Available also are online academic databases covering all the subject disciplines.

CENTRE FOR REMOTE SENSING AND GEOGRAPHIC INFORMATION SERVICES (CERSGIS): The Centre for Remote Sensing and Geographic Information Services was established in 1993 as the Remote Sensing Applications Unit; a self-accounting Unit in the Department of Geography and Resource Development with a mandate to provide Remote Sensing and Geographic Information Systems (GIS) services and to assist research in land and water resources appraisal and monitoring, including rural and urban land use patterns and trends. It also supports the teaching programmes of the environmental and resource based departments, namely Geography and Resource Development, Geology, Botany, Agriculture and Physics.

The establishment of the Unit became necessary because of the establishment of a remote sensing applications laboratory and an ecological laboratory in the Department of Geography and Resource Development. The establishment of the laboratories was made possible through the generous assistance of the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and the Danish Government through the Institute of Geography under a linkage arrangement between the Universities of Ghana and Copenhagen (Denmark). The Ecological laboratory is equipped with modern facilities to undertake analyses of a large range of subjects, including plant materials, soil conditions, water and sediments. The combination of a remote sensing laboratory and an ecological laboratory provides ideal facilities for multi-disciplinary approaches to resource and environmental problems which are bound to have far reaching implications not only for the quality and relevance of teaching and research in the University but also for the quest for the sustainable development of the resources of Ghana.

ECOLOGY LABORATORY CENTRE: The Ecology Laboratory at the University of Ghana, Legon was initiated in 1993 through a DANIDA financial ENRECA project. During the first project period, 1993–95, the Ecology Laboratory was equipped with instruments for conducting chemical and physical analyses on soil, water and plant samples. The second project period, 1997–9, was intended to support teaching and interdisciplinary research programmes on nutrient cycling, ecology and biodiversity. This is reflected in the composition of membership of the Centre's Advisory Board and Technical Committee to represent a wide range of Departments. The Centre is aimed, among others, at supporting interdisciplinary research activities to facilitate necessary field research for researchers and PhD students; to encourage exchange of scientists and technicians between Ghana and Denmark; to conduct training courses on topics of interest to activities of the Ecology Laboratory Centre and to organise seminars and workshops. The Ecology Laboratory Centre is located in the building housing the Ecology Laboratory at the Department of Geography and Resource Development.

CENTRE FOR SOCIAL POLICY STUDIES: The Centre for Social Policy Studies was established in December, 1997 primarily to develop and improve social welfare services in Ghana. It is intended to fill a need for social welfare policy research in Ghana. The challenge is to provide a forum that can play a co-ordinating role for the establishment of a social development network and at the same time to involve the general public in the process of social welfare policy development.

The Centre aims at creating greater awareness on social welfare policy issues in Ghana and promoting participatory development of policies and social service programmes of action. In this respect, the Centre focuses on interdisciplinary projects that emerge from its own programmes as well as those of cognate departments, agencies, organisations and institutions. Specifically, policy areas to be covered through the Centre's programmes and activities are: the development of the child; poverty, nutrition and household dynamics; family welfare; health; gender issues; ageing; community participation/community welfare; labour issues; environmental issues; population and development. Because of its coordinating role, the Centre serves as a Documentation and Information centre on social welfare policy for students, researchers, policy makers and professionals in the social service field. The centre has a specialised library of reference materials not available elsewhere on campus and produces a Social Policy handbook which covers a wide range of policy issues, carrying both information and programme experiences.

CENTRE FOR GENDER STUDIES AND ADVOCACY (CEGENSA)

Established in 2005 and launched in 2006, the centre's key role is to ensure that gender issues become legitimate business of the university. This role includes academic, policy and service functions over 7 core areas: academic planning and curriculum development; research and documentation; the provision of a resource centre; the provision of a sexual abuse counselling centre; policy planning; the development of mentoring programmes, particularly for junior female faculty and students; and outreach and extension work within the university as well as in the wider society.

CENTRE FOR MIGRATION STUDIES

The Centre for Migration Studies was formally established in October 2006 at the University of Ghana to undertake research, teaching, training, capacity building, policy assessment, development and dissemination in the area of migration. Its mission is to serve as a leading centre for the study of contemporary and future migration dynamics within and outside Ghana through a strategic and integrated approach.

WEST AFRICA CENTRE FOR CROP IMPROVEMENT (WACCI)

The overall purpose of the West Africa Centre for Crop Improvement (WACCI) is to train the next generation of West and Central African plant breeders in an African university, to breed crops in national agricultural research stations for production systems in the two sub-regions towards the improvement of food security in Africa.

The Centre has therefore been established at the University of Ghana to train plant breeders with expertise to improve the indigenous crops that feed the people of the West African sub-region. The WACCI plant breeding training programme will produce skilled, knowledgeable and properly resourced breeders to breed crops to meet local needs and preferences.

INSTITUTE OF ENVIRONMENT AND SANITATION SCIENCES

Government, on the occasion of the University's 60th anniversary, announced a gift of GH¢60 million to the University, part of which was to be used to establish an Institute for the Study of the Environment and Sanitation Sciences. The Institute, which is part of the Faculty of Science, has as its overall goal the establishment of teaching programmes and training to educate and produce post graduates to PhD level and mid-career environmentalists and practitioners in Ghana and Africa; to address the enormity of the implications of development and the environment; and to mitigate the changing and increasing risks to human health caused by poor sanitation. The Institute aims to evolve into a centre of excellence for environmental and developmental issues and to provide training, knowledge and service in Ghana and Africa on issues relating to sanitation and environmental management.

Successful candidates shall be admitted to Level 100.

HIGHER DEGREES

Applicants for admission to higher degrees must hold good bachelor's degrees in the appropriate subjects. All higher degrees are open to graduates of other approved universities. For Master of Philosophy degrees, at least two semesters must be spent studying in the University. For the PhD, at least two semesters for graduates of the University of Ghana and at least four semesters for those of other universities must be spent in this University. Thereafter, subject to approval by the Board of Graduate Studies, candidates may pursue their studies outside the University. Master of Arts programmes are of a two-semester full-time or four-semester part-time duration.

VISITING STUDENTSHIP (SPECIAL ADMISSIONS)

This operates under the principle of Academic Credit Transfer, requiring the recognition by one higher educational institution of courses, study periods and examinations which have been completed in another higher educational institution. Under this scheme, students who have completed two years of higher education at their overseas universities are admitted to spend a third year of study at the University of Ghana under close supervision of the host institution, after which they return to complete their final year at their home university. Acceptance is normally based on the applicant's previous academic record and his/her proposed programme. Applicants must have an academic record that is above average. Credits earned under this special study programme are transferable. To be eligible for participation in this programme, therefore, one must have obtained a minimum Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) of 3.00 on a 4.00 point scale.

OCCASIONAL STUDENTSHIP

Non-members of the University may be admitted to be part of courses for up to one session/ semester, subject to the approval of the Dean of Faculty and the Head of Department concerned, and upon payment of a fee. Such persons are not eligible to take university examinations.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

The University attaches great importance to the cross-cultural experience that is made possible by the presence of foreign students on campus. The successful participation of international students in our courses has helped us to acquire an excellent reputation for the quality of our teaching and research and of our student care services. We pride ourselves on the attention given to the individual needs of our students, whatever their cultural backgrounds. Foreign students may pursue courses towards the award of University of Ghana degrees, or as visiting students, study for the degrees of their own universities. Foreign students may be admitted if they hold qualifications equivalent to those listed above. Evidence of command of the English Language at the SSCE/WASSCE or its equivalent is required. There is a one-year English proficiency course (without specific entry requirements) for candidates who do not have the requisite English language background.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

The University admits a limited number of students who are already enrolled in other Universities, though local transfers are not usually allowed. Such students transfer from their university to the University of Ghana to complete their course of study for a degree/diploma of the University of Ghana. A student transferring from one university to this university should accumulate a minimum study period of 4 semesters as a full time student in this university before he/she becomes eligible for graduation. The classification of the degree will be based only on the courses taken at this University.

REGISTRATION AND ORIENTATION

The University requires all fresh students to report at least one week before the commencement of the academic year to go through a process of registration and orientation. Orientation is compulsory for all freshmen. All students are required to register fully with the Hall of Residence/Attachment, the Academic Affairs Directorate and the relevant Faculty/ Department(s).

All enquiries about admissions should be addressed to:

*The Director (Academic Affairs Directorate),
University of Ghana,
Registrar's Offices,

4. STUDENT FACILITIES AND SOCIETIES

HALLS OF RESIDENCE/HOSTELS

The University believes in community living as an essential part of student life. It is therefore primarily residential, providing accommodation in Halls of Residence for both under-graduate and post-graduate students as well as flats and guest rooms for senior members and guests. There are five halls of residence (available to all students) and several Hostels. The present Halls and Hostels are as follows:

Legon Hall
Akuafu Hall
Commonwealth Hall
Volta Hall
Mensah Sarbah Hall
Postgraduate Hostel
Valco Trust Hostel
International Students' Hostel
SSNIT Hostels [Ghana Hostels Limited]
Jubilee Hall
Hilla Limann Hall
Alexander Adum Kwapong Hall
Jean Nelson Aka Hall

Each Hall consists of junior members (students) and senior members (academic and senior administrative and professional staff), and is managed by a Council comprising members elected by persons belonging to the Hall. The Master (or Warden in the case of Volta Hall) is the Head of the Hall. Each Hall has Junior and Senior Common Rooms for students and Faculty, respectively. A tutorial system offers an opportunity for counseling students and ensuring their welfare at both academic and social levels. Students maintain interaction with each other and the wider community through recognized clubs and societies. Each Hall has a kitchen and a dining hall to cater for students' feeding. Chapels and a mosque are also available for use by various religious denominations. A Chaplaincy Board co-ordinates the activities of religious groups. Social life on the campus is organised mainly by the Students' Representative Council and the Junior Common Room Committees which provide various kinds of social programmes.

LEGON HALL: Legon Hall was the first to be built on the permanent site of the University of Ghana at Legon and is, therefore, the Premier Hall of the University. Its foundation tablet was laid during the Michaelmas Term of 1951 and, in September 1952, the first undergraduates were accepted into residence. On Trinity Sunday, 31st May 1953, the first service was held in the Chapel and the first meal served in the Dining Hall. From these events, the Hall took Trinity Sunday every year as its birthday, celebrated by a common "Feast" for both its Junior and Senior Members. The Hall's motto, Cui Multum Datum ("To whom much is given..."), was selected from St. Luke's Gospel, in recognition of the special responsibility attached to the Hall's seniority. Senior Members of the University may be assigned as Fellows of the Hall by the Vice Chancellor and they usually keep their Fellowship for as long as they remain with the University. Persons of academic distinction outside the University may be elected as Honorary Fellows at a General Meeting of Fellows. The rest of the membership of the Hall is made up of persons in statu pupillari. The governing body of the Hall is the Hall Council, members of which are Fellows of the Hall. The principal Hall Officers are: The Master, the Vice-Master, the President of the Senior Common Room, the Senior Tutor, and the Hall Bursar. The Hall was converted into a mixed Hall of Residence in October, 1991.

AKUAFO HALL: Akuafu Hall was established with the appointment of Professor D.A. Taylor, a Master-designate and a Hall Council in 1953. The Hall Council in 1954 decided to name the Hall Akuafu to commemorate the generous gesture of the farmers of Ghana in giving money for the foundation of the University College. A crest which depicts a cocoa tree, an open book and a drum, designed by Professor W.J. McCallien, and a motto, laboremus et sapiamus, suggested by Professor L.H. Ofosu-Appiah, were adopted by the Council. A commemorative plaque with a Latin inscription composed by Professor L.H. Ofosu-Appiah was set up to show the gratitude of the Hall to the farmers of the country and to the British Government who gave the University College funds for the building of the Hall. The Hall was officially opened on 17 February, 1956, but the first students, numbering 131, came into residence on the 5th October, 1955. The Hall has its own statutes governing the election of officers and the administration of its affairs. Once a year, the Master has to convene a meeting of the Fellows, who form the governing body, to receive his annual report. The Senior Common Room is open to all Fellows and their guests, and the Senior Combination Room to all senior members of the University. Senior Members may also invite students to the Combination Room. The Hall was converted into a mixed Hall of Residence in October, 1991.

COMMONWEALTH HALL: The first batch of students was admitted into residence in Commonwealth Hall at the beginning of the 1956-1957 academic year. In the Lent Term of that academic year, Ghana attained its independence from Great Britain, and the Hall, hitherto known as the Third Hall, was officially christened Commonwealth Hall to commemorate Ghana's admission into the Commonwealth of Nations. The official opening of the Hall was performed in March, 1957. It is, so far, the only all-male Hall of Residence in the University. The motto of the Hall, Truth Stands, was taken from a quotation from Satyre by John Donne (1572-1631):

*"On a huge hill, cragged, and steep,
Truth stands and hee that will Reach her,
about must, and about must goe"*

This motto combines both the physical situation of the Hall (on a hillside overlooking most of the University and beyond) and the proper pursuit of a University education, the search for truth. It is the only Hall of Residence in the University which has a theatre and amphitheatre for lectures and plays. The Coat of Arms of the Hall depicts the strength and unity of purpose of members of the Hall deriving from the bonds of association enjoyed by the individual members of the Hall. High Commissioners of the Commonwealth countries in Ghana are accorded Honorary Membership of the Hall. There is a Hall Council which administers the affairs of the Hall, assisted by the Tutorial Board and the Senior Common Room Committee.

VOLTA HALL: Volta Hall started as the Fourth Hall in the 1959-60 academic year, on 16th November, 1960. The University College Council, on the recommendation of the Hall Council, named it Volta Hall. The Hall consists of the main hall originally designed to accommodate 82 students, and an annex with an original capacity for accommodating 198 students, the occupation of which began in January 1966. The motto of the Hall, chosen during the Hall's tenth anniversary celebrations, is in the Akan language and it is: Akokobere Nso Nyim Adekyee. This means that the secret or knowledge of life and nature is a gift to women as it is to men. The Hall has a governing Body which comprises all the Fellows assigned to it and those elected by the assigned Fellows. The government of the Hall rests with this body which delegates some of its powers to a Hall Council. The Hall Council consists of ten members, including the Warden, the Deputy Warden, the Senior Tutor and the Bursar who are ex-officio members. The day-to-day administration of the Hall is carried out by the Warden with the help of the Senior Tutor, who deals with all students' affairs, and the Bursar.

MENSAH SARBAH HALL: Mensah Sarbah Hall, the fifth Hall of the University, stands in the southern part of the campus. The Hall consists of a main Hall built around a quadrangle and a number of Annexes standing to the north and east. The last two south annexes are attached to the Hall. Until October 1991, Mensah Sarbah was the only co-ed Hall of Residence in the University, which made it quite unique among the Halls. The governing body of the Hall is the Council, which is responsible to the full body of Fellows who form the Senate. Students' affairs are handled by students' own elected government headed by a President, while the general administration of the Hall is under the Master who is assisted by the Senior Tutor and Tutors on the one hand and the Bursar on the other. Other Hall Officers are the Chaplain, who is responsible for the Roman Catholic Chapel, the Prayer Room Warden, who is responsible for the Protestant Chapel, and the Librarian. Senior Common Room affairs are managed by an elected committee under the President of the Senior Common Room. The Hall is named after the famous Ghanaian jurist, writer and statesman, John Mensah Sarbah of Cape Coast. It has been customary for the Hall to celebrate the birthday anniversary of this great man every year. This anniversary is known as Sarbah Day and is highlighted by a dinner and a get-together. The Hall has a crest designed to bring out the principal features of Mensah Sarbah's life. It consists of three elements: a pair of scales, a stool with a book resting upon it, and a hill surmounted by a castle. The scale signifies the legal profession, the stool and the book symbolise culture while the hill and the castle are intended to depict the familiar landscape of Cape Coast with its many hills and forts. At the same time, the castle is intended to symbolise strength and honour. VALCO TRUST HOSTELS: The idea to build a graduate hostel was first nurtured when Legon Hall Annex C was prepared exclusively for graduate students of the Hall. The quest for a suitable accommodation for graduate students gained attention when Valco Trust Fund offered to finance the construction of a graduate hostel. As a further boost to this course, Legon Hall Annex C was converted into an Annex of the Hostel. The Valco Trust Hostel, donated to the University by the Valco Trust Fund to ease pressure on student accommodation, is a block of purpose-built, self contained flats for 190 students. The Hostel, which was completed in June 1997, is the University's first hostel for graduate students. A second block with similar facilities was opened in January 2006. Located behind Mensah Sarbah Hall on the southern part of the campus, the flats are arranged in single and double study bedrooms with en suite shower and toilet. There is a shared kitchen for every twelve rooms. Facilities in the hostels include common rooms, washrooms and a restaurant.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS' HOSTELS: The International Student's Hostels are located on the southern part of the campus off the road to the Noguchi Memorial Institute for Medical Research. For a long time, it had been the dream of the University of Ghana to create and strengthen links with other universities in order to enhance the international student presence on campus. The first phase was commissioned in June 1999 and the second in January 2006. The Hostels are co-educational and each has 43 single rooms and 85 double rooms. In addition, there are facilities such as a well-fortified security system, kitchenettes and restaurants.

JUBILEE HALL: Jubilee Hall, located on the southern part of the campus, adjacent to the International Students' Hostel, was built to commemorate the University's Golden Jubilee celebration in 1998. Its officers are elected annually by a ballot of all students during the second semester to serve the following academic year. Executives of the Junior Common Room (JCR) also serve on the Council. All students registered at the university are automatically members of the SRC, which levies direct income from its members to finance its programmes and activities. The SRC is a constituent organization of the National Union of Ghana

Students, which provides a focal point of all aspects of student activities nationally and internationally. The Union runs a broadcasting service on campus called Radio Unvers, which transmits to the campus site and its environs and even as far as to the city of Accra and slightly beyond. These, together with the student newspapers, provide a comprehensive information service on campus. One area of SRC activity is the SRC Women's Commission, which organizes programmes to educate female students on their rights and responsibilities as young women. The Commission runs a number of its own community action projects, and also liaises between student volunteers and voluntary and non-governmental organizations in and around the country.

The SRC has representation on the Council of the University and on University Boards/ Committees which deal with students' welfare.
